Project Summary: This project involves cleaning up two separate agricultural properties within the City of Lancaster that contain an abundance of illegally disposed material. Each illegal disposal site contains a mixture of used tires, discarded household furniture, construction material and other refuse and debris. This accumulation of debris within each location is considerable in size, a public health hazard and, even more significant, continues to attract additional illegal dumping to the sites. The removal of refuse will eliminate potentially dangerous obstacles to basic farming operations, prevent further public health and safety hazards and limit the possibility of onsite and offsite surface and groundwater contamination. This activity would also help to restore the integrity of each site to their original intended use.

Project Summary: This project will clean up a historic, unauthorized solid waste dumpsite on a working cattle ranch in Gilroy, CA. The parties responsible for this dumping cannot be identified, and may no longer be living. Our effort will recycle all materials removed from the site that are recyclable, and properly dispose of all non-recyclable waste. Once the site is cleaned up, the area will be restored to appropriate vegetation for cattle, fire safety and working use of the ranch. The target site is a single parcel of an approximately 2040 acre working cattle ranch, leased for 20 years by the current operator, who breeds and grazes commercial livestock. The ranch is composed of many agriculturally zoned parcels collectively known as the Day Ranch 1 & 2 and the historic Lucky Hereford Ranch.
